DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is in response to the amendment filed 6/20/2005.
2. As per applicant's request, claims 1-41 have been cancelled and claims 42-59 have been added. Claims 42-59 are pending in the application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 42-59 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Per claims 42, 48, and 54, it is unclear as to which default compare strategy (in the last line) it is referring. It is interpreted as "the default compare strategy."

Per claim 43, 44, 49, 50, 55, and 56, it is unclear as to which custom compare strategy (in the first line) it is referring. It is interpreted as "the custom compare strategy."

Per claims 55-59, it is unclear to which base claims they are referring, as claim 51 does not recite a data processing system. It is interpreted as: claims 55-59 further limit claim 54.

As per claims 45-47 and 51-53, these claims are rejected for dependency on the above rejected parent claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

Art Unit: 2193

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 42-59 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by LPEX Editor User's Guide (IBM, 1998) hereafter LPEX.

Per claim 42:

LPEX discloses:

-selecting at least two documents for comparison, wherein the at least two documents contain source code written in at least one programming language (i.e. see compare Command, "Examines two documents for differences in their content," page 71; "LPEX comes with parsers for C, C++, COBOL, Fortran, and for its own macros," chapter 4.

Using parsers);

-Identifying the at least one programming language as being utilized in the at least two documents (i.e. "the editor automatically runs a load macro used to invoke a parser whose file name is composed of the extension of the file being loaded and an extension of .lx.. This load macro, in turn, invokes a parser...if you open a file called sample.c, the editor calls the c.lxl load macro, which invokes the C parser," chapter 4. Using parsers, page 23);

-in response to the identifying, associating a respective parser to each of the at least two documents, wherein each respective parser is tailored to parse documents that utilize a specific programming language (i.e. "the editor automatically runs a load macro used to invoke a parser whose file name is composed of the extension of the file being loaded and an extension of .lx.. This load macro, in turn, invokes a parser...if you open a file called sample.c, the editor calls the c.lxl load macro, which invokes the C parser," chapter 4. Using parsers, page 23);

-determining whether all associated parsers are of a same type (i.e. "the editor automatically runs a load macro used to invoke a parser whose file name is composed of the extension of the file being loaded and an extension of .lx.. This load macro, in turn, invokes a parser...if you open a file called sample.c, the editor calls the c.lxl load macro, which invokes the C parser," chapter 4. Using parsers, page 23);

-in response to determining that all associated parsers are of the same type, selecting either a default compare strategy or a custom compare strategy when comparing the at least two documents ; in response to determining that not all associated parsers are of the same type, applying a default compare strategy (i.e. see Chapter 5. Customizing Editor Appearance and Function, Yu can also create macros and load profiles to handle more elaborate customization," page 25) as claimed.

Per claim 43:

The rejection of claim 42 is incorporated, and further, LPEX teaches:

-in response to selecting a custom compare strategy when comparing the at least two documents, selecting at least one compare option to be utilized in the custom compare strategy (i.e. see Chapter 5. Customizing Editor Appearance and Function, Yu can also create macros and load profiles to handle more elaborate customization," page 25) as claimed.

Per claim 44:

The rejection of claim 42 is incorporated, and further, LPEX teaches:

--in response to selecting a custom compare strategy when comparing the at least two documents, displaying a compare dialog for selecting at least one compare option to be utilized in the custom compare strategy (i.e. see Chapter 5. Customizing Editor Appearance and Function, Yu can also create macros and load profiles to handle more elaborate customization," page 25) as claimed.

Per claim 45:

The rejection of claim 42 is incorporated, and further, LPEX teaches:

-wherein the respective parser reads and analyzes documents according to file type, maintains document information throughout document editing, provides token colorization, provides a content-outline of the document, provides code-assist functions, provides automatic formatting of user input, provides navigation between classes and tokens, and provides language-sensitive help on contents of the document (i.e. see Chapter 5. Customizing Editor Appearance and Function, Yu can also create macros and load profiles to handle more elaborate customization," page 25; see also compare command, "Options for the compare command," page 72) as claimed.

Per claim 46:

The rejection of claim 42 is incorporated, and further, LPEX teaches:

-wherein the comparison is performed while ignoring comments (see i.e Live Parsing, page 24) as claimed.

Per claim 47:

The rejection of claim 42 is incorporated, and further, LPEX teaches:

-wherein the comparison anticipates expected differences between the at least two documents including a change of a class or a variable name (i.e. see compare command) as claimed.

Per claims 48-53, they are the computer-readable medium versions of claims 42-47, respectively, and are rejected for the same reasons set forth in connection with the rejection of claims 42-47 above.

Per claims 54-59, they are the data processing system versions of claims 42-47, respectively, and are rejected for the same reasons set forth in connection with the rejection of claims 42-47 above.

Response to Arguments

Art Unit: 2193

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 42-59 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
